- A submitted manuscript is the version of the article upon submission and before peer-review. There can be important differences between the submitted version and the official published version of record. People interested in the research are advised to contact the author for the final version of the publication, or visit the DOI to the publisher's website.
- The final author version and the galley proof are versions of the publication after peer review.
- The final published version features the final layout of the paper including the volume, issue and page numbers.

EDITORIAL

Expansion at Memory

We continue to expand here at Memory. This year, we are pleased to announce that Nicole Alea (University of the West Indies), Nancy Dennis (Pennsylvania State University), Fiona Gabbert (Goldsmiths College London), Kate McLean (Western Washington University), and Chris Moulin (University of Grenoble) have joined our editorial team. Due to an increase in submissions we are also increasing the number of issues (and hence the number of pages) we will be publishing. Starting in 2016, we will be increasing the number of issues from 8 to 10. You will also notice that starting in 2016, the font used in our publication has changed to one that is cleaner and easier to read. This change in font will also streamline the production process and together with the increase in issues/pages, will result in faster turnaround times from acceptance of articles to when they appear in print. Of course, articles will continue to be published electronically on the website approximately 5 weeks following acceptance.

As always, we could not achieve this success at Memory without the continued support of our Associate Editors (Richard Allen, Rachel Barr, Patricia J. Bauer, Steve Dewhurst, Madeline Eacott, Angela Gutchess, Rick Hanley, Harlene Hayne, Joni Holmes, Reed Hunt, Laura Jobson, Lia Kvavilashvili, Henry Otgaar, Marie Poirier, Katherine Rawson, John Seamon, Dave Turk, Qi Wang, and Inke Wessel) who all strive to achieve our goal of a maximum 8-week turnaround time and at the same time, provide authors with a high quality and broad range of expertise in the very diverse field of our submissions. We also thank the many colleagues who have provided reviews of the numerous manuscripts received at the editorial office. It is because of your diligence and the generous donation of your time that Memory continues to be the success that it is.

Editors-in-Chief

PS: We hope to see you all in Budapest for the Sixth International Conference on Memory, ICOM-6. Closing date for submissions is 31 January 2016 and these can be made through the web site: <http://www.icom2016.com>
